

YOU MUST NOT MISS THE CIRCUS.

To-morrow Is the Day of the Great Show for the Great Cause.

Dan Rice, the Old Prince of Clowns, Back in the Ring for the Children's Sake.

He Is Seventy-six, Rich and Bewhiskered, but He Will Appear Just This Once.

IT'S A BIG SHOW; GO AND SEE IT

Happenings at the Junior Republic—On the Freewill Farm the Young Citizens Are Bidding on Contracts and Making Laws.

To-morrow is circus day! Sit up, children! Sit right up straight, and listen!

Who do you think is going to be at that circus?

Somebody your father tells you about when he's good-natured and wants to make you happy.

Somebody that's made more people laugh than any dozen clowns on earth.

Somebody whose very name used to mean a broad grin. Guess now!

You'll never do it!

Dan Rice! Jolly, old Dan Rice, who had the best circus that ever set up a tent!

Dan Rice, the man who wrote more funny songs in a month than most men sing in a year.

Dan Rice, the veteran clown.

You ought to see him. He looks like a banker. He's rich and prosperous, and he doesn't go to the circus once in ten years now, but he heard about that Bentley's Circus benefit, and he simply couldn't keep out of it.

Here's the letter he wrote:

Long Branch City, July 20, 1896.

Boys and Girls of New York City:

Having received a visit from a representative of the Journal, his enthusiastic manifestation of the benefits that have been opened up to the boys and girls who have self-respect enough to avail themselves of the golden opportunities of the Junior Republic, have inspired me with a desire to contribute my humble effort to augment the matinee performance to be given next Wednesday afternoon by Bentley's Old Fashioned Country Circus. I shall surely appear in the ring to greet the smiling faces of the boys and girls whose fathers and mothers laughed at my antics years ago. Wishing the Junior Republic every prosperity and blessing, I am, as ever, The Children's Friend, DAN RICE.

He's seventy-six years old, Dan Rice is. Seventy-six years young, you'll say, when you see him. He wears a long beard, and he hasn't chalked his face since before most of you were born. He'll never appear to a circus again, but he's coming over from his country seat to help out the Junior Republic benefit.

Cut his picture out of the paper, boys and girls. Show it to your father, and see if he doesn't take a day off and take you to the circus.

Show it to your grandfather—you won't have to tease him long for that day at the circus.

Show it to your mother, and see if she don't remember the day she put on her brand new muslin gown and drove through the white country roads to see the great Dan Rice. Tell them all about the Junior Republic Day; tell them all about the Junior Republic itself; and they'll tell you about Dan Rice—and they'll do more than tell you about him, see if they do not.

There isn't money enough in all the big syndicate shows to coax Dan Rice out of his handsome country place into the sawdust ring, but what money won't do, the desire to help the youngsters has done. The big circus managers would pay Dan Rice as much for a season as would set the whole Junior Republic up in business, but they can't have him. They'd plaster the town with show bills advertising his reappearance in the ring, and he'd quite eclipse the elephant that walks the tight-rope, the trained giraffe and the performing tigers combined; and as for the rest of the clowns, they wouldn't get a line on the posters if Dan Rice's name was there. That's the kind of a star attraction the cause of the Junior Republic has brought out.

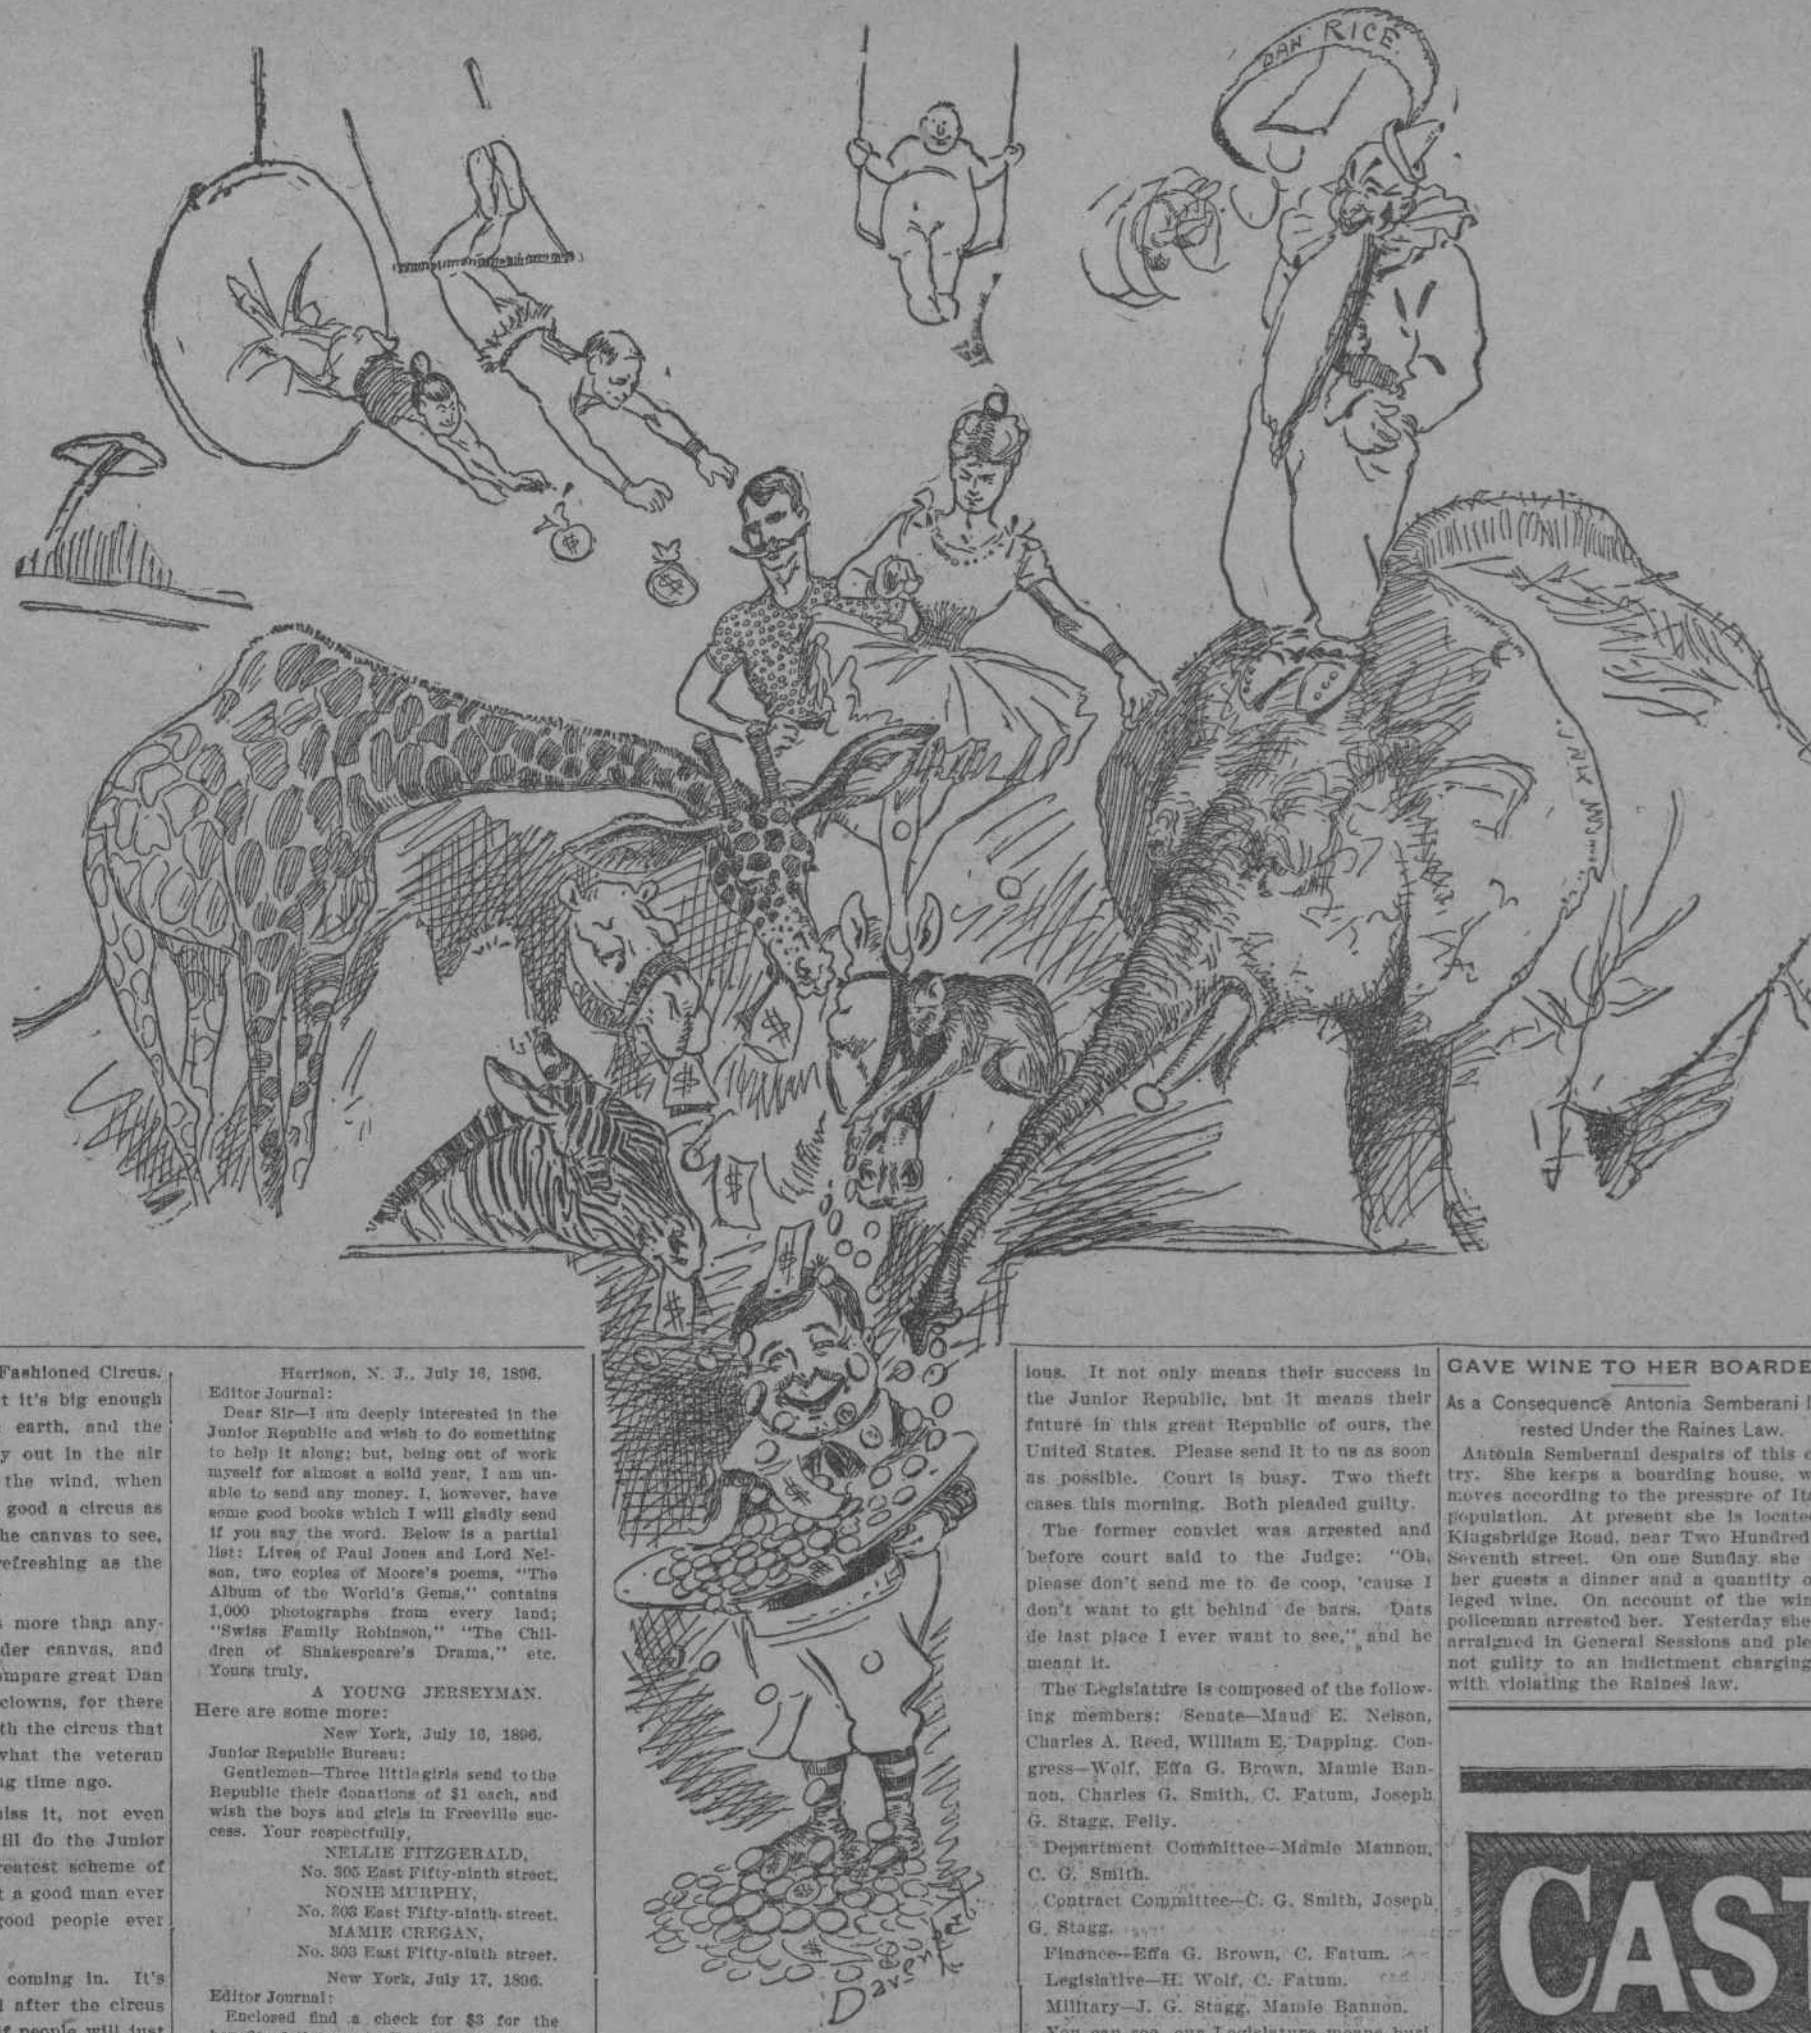

Don't forget the time, the place or the circus!

Wednesday afternoon, July 22, Junior Republic Day at Bentley's Old Fashioned Circus, Ninety-ninth street and First Avenue.

Maybe you're blasé about circuses. Maybe it takes a show with more rings than a barrel has hoops, with platforms between the rings, and everything from Edison's latest invention to a three-tailed Mexican dog, to rouse your interest.

Well, you know that when a man has been living on canvas back duck and terrapin and champagne until a French menu card gives him quail, the doctors set him down to some good, weird old roast beef, with maybe stewed tomatoes on the side.

Try as a cure for your lost circus habit.

one trip to Bentley's Old Fashioned Circus. There's only one ring, but it's big enough for the biggest show on earth, and the horses do not have to lay out in the air like cards shot through the wind, when they go around. It's as good a circus as ever you crawled under the canvas to see, and as wholesome and refreshing as the pies mother used to bake.

You'll enjoy that circus more than anything you ever saw under canvas, and you'll have a chance to compare great Dan Rice with the latter-day clowns, for there are five regular clowns with the circus that are to the ring to-day what the veteran was to the circus of a long time ago.

You can't afford to miss it, not even counting the good you will do the Junior Republic, which is the greatest scheme of practical philanthropy that a good man ever thought of and other good people ever helped out.

You see the money is coming in. It's nearly $6,000 already, and after the circus it will be $7,000 at least, if people will just be willing to have an afternoon's fun for almost no price at all.

You see the illustration published to-day. It was drawn by Homer Davenport, the great cartoon man. He found time, even in the thick of the fray, to leave the Democratic donkey, the Republican elephant and the silver question to do this for the Junior Republic. You are no busier than he is. Do something for the boys and girls, even if it is only to go to the circus.

Here are some letters that show how the leaves are working:

New York, July 17, 1896.
To the Junior Republic:
Mr. Editor—Enclosed you will find 50 cents, which we made having a little stand. Hoping this will do some good in helping the Junior Republic, we remain yours respectfully,
STELLA ANSORGE,
LAURETTA TENKIN,
TESSY ANGELO.

Stella, Lauretta and Tessa—You never did anything better in your young lives than this bit of kindness.

New York City, July 18, 1896.
Dear Journal—Enclosed find 25 cents in stamps for the Junior Republic. I only wish it was $25, as the cause is such a worthy one. Let it go toward aiding Johnny M. to get to the Republic. From one whose heart aches for the children of New York City.
MRS. J. W. H.

Quite a number of such letters as the following have come in:

Brooklyn, July 19, 1896.
The Journal:
Will you please let me know if the following reading matter is of any use to the Junior Republic, and if so, will send it to you by express: Five vols. Golden Days, 8 vols. Century, 2 vols. Cosmopolitan, 6 vols. Munsey's Magazine, 4 bound in cloth; 2 vols. Youth's Companion, 1 binder, etc.; Higginson's History, Life of Washington, Life of Webster, Following the Flag, etc. If you can't use these you can sell them to a bookseller.

Of course the reading matter is of use to the young folks. You would never think it, but the youngsters at Freeville are just wild to read. They will not be sold to any bookman. Here is the sort of letter which best shows the spirit that has been awakened up by the plea on behalf of the poor children:

Harrison, N. J., July 10, 1896.
Editor Journal:

Dear Sir—I am deeply interested in the Junior Republic and wish to do something to help it along; but, being out of work myself for almost a solid year, I am unable to send any money. I, however, have some good books which I will gladly send if you say the word. Below is a partial list: Lives of Paul Jones and Lord Nelson, two copies of Moore's poems, "The Album of the World's Gems," contains 1,000 photographs from every land; "Swiss Family Robinson," "The Children of Shakespeare's Drama," etc. Yours truly,

A YOUNG JERSEYMAN.

Here are some more:

New York, July 10, 1896.
Junior Republic Bureau:
Gentlemen—Three little girls send to the Republic their donations of $1 each, and with the boys and girls in Freeville success. Your respectfully,

NEILLIE FITZGERALD,
No. 305 East Fifty-ninth street,
NONIE MURPHY,
No. 308 East Fifty-ninth street,
MAMIE CREGAN,
No. 303 East Fifty-ninth street.
New York, July 17, 1896.

Editor Journal:
Enclosed find a check for $3 for the benefit of the great effort you are making for the Junior Republic, and I am proud to be an honorary member of so worthy an association. Each of my children send 50 cents and I send $1 for the membership. Very truly yours,

IRENE MIERS,
PIERRE MIERS,
EDWARD EVERETT MIERS,
EVELYN MIERS,
ELIJAH MIERS.

Here are a few letters which tell their own story of good will and energy:

Dear Journal:
We have sold over half the tickets you gave us. Will be sold out by to-night. Monday morning we will come and get some more. Hurrah for Junior Republic day!
Max, David, Alexander, Carrie and Rosie Greenbaum, 913 Eagle avenue, New York City.

Dear Journal:
We want to sell tickets for that circus afternoon. We will bring you a letter from some people you know, so you won't be worried about us.

Will you give us a good bunch of tickets?
Harold F. Bernas, sixteen years old; Frank Snyder, ten years old; Arthur McKenna, thirteen years old; Champ Van Bergen, twelve years old; Henry Bascovitch, thirteen years old; Charles Hughes, sixteen years old; No. 265 West Seventeenth street, New York City.

Tickets for the circus are on sale at No. 1122 Broadway, the Junior Republic Headquarters.

The following boys and girls have taken tickets to sell:

Harry Hanson, Frank Smith, No. 118 East Ninety-second street, New York City.
Howard Buckley, Margaretta Buckley, Willis J. Donegan, No. 338 East One Hundred and Twenty-first street.
Cash donations already acknowledged $5,907.30
E. V. Sidell 4.00
Lella Moynahan 1.00
Jennie Hanley 4.00
Allee Hanley 1.00
Nellie Fitzgerald 1.00
Mamie Cregan 1.00
Nellie and Josie Williamson50
Irene Miers50
Edward Everett Miers50
Evelyn Miers50
Gene Miers50
Angie Carroll25
Agnes Axworth25
Tessie Corrigan25

long. It not only means their success in the Junior Republic, but it means their future in this great Republic of ours, the United States. Please send it to us as soon as possible. Court is busy. Two theft cases this morning. Both pleaded guilty.

The former convict was arrested and before court said to the Judge: "Oh, please don't send me to de coop, 'cause I don't want to get behind de bars. Dats de last place I ever want to see," and he meant it.

The Legislature is composed of the following members: Senate—Mand E. Nelson, Charles A. Reed, William E. Dapping. Congress—Wood, Edga G. Brown, Mamie Bannon, Charles G. Smith, C. Fatum, Joseph G. Stagg, Felly.

Department Committee—Mamie Mannon, C. G. Smith.
Contract Committee—C. G. Smith, Joseph G. Stagg.

Finance—Edga G. Brown, C. Fatum.
Legislative—H. Wolf, C. Fatum.
Military—J. G. Stagg, Mamie Bannon.

You can see our Legislature means business; there is quite a little more to do. We are very busy and it is all for our good.

There is something a-coming, a pleasant time. Would you like to know what it is? Wait till it happens, and then you can see. JACOB SMITH.

Wanted To Be Naval Apprentices.
Officials of the Navy Yard held an examination yesterday of applicants who desired to enlist as apprentices. The rules of the department require that all persons available as apprentices shall be between ten and seventeen years old and capable of passing a physical and mental examination. In spite of this the applicants, who came by the hundred, ranged in age from ten to fifty years. Twenty of them were accepted by the examiners and will be given berths on the New York. There is still a need of engineers on the receiving ship Vermont and applicants will be examined.

Nuisance in Tarrytown Abated.
The State Board of Health has declared the fat rendering establishment of Williams & Adams at Tarrytown to be a public nuisance. The proprietors have accordingly decided to close it up. The State Board ordered the local Board to declare the shop a nuisance, but the members of the latter Board were divided on the subject. They, however, served notice on the firm that they must conform to the regulations of the sanitary provisions of the State Board of Health or close the place by July 21.

Two Attempts to Wreck a Train.
Boonville, Mo., July 20.—An attempt was made yesterday to wreck an excursion train on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas a mile north of Pleasant Green, Cooper County. Ties were piled on the track and were not seen by the engineer. The speed was slow and the train was not derailed. There were 350 excursionists on board, returning to St. Louis, and had the perpetrator been caught a lynching would have followed. An attempt was made to wreck the north-bound mail train on the same road near Boonville this morning in the same manner, but was also unsuccessful.

COMING EVENTS.

The annual afternoon and evening festival of Christopher Columbus, No. 329, Knights of Columbus, takes place at Cramer Park on July 30.

A ratification meeting, under the auspices of the Twenty-fourth Assembly District Republican Club, will be held at Grover's Hall, No. 128 East Fifty-seventh street, this evening. Speeches will be made by Edwin Kinslein, Charles Holm, Captain "Jack" Crawford and others.

All arrangements have been completed by the members of the Holy Cross League for their annual excursion on July 29 to Grand View Park, on the Sound. A steamer and two barges have been chartered for the occasion and will leave the pier at Forty-fourth street, North River, at 9:30 o'clock.

The Cherokee Club of the Twenty-eighth Assembly District is preparing for a genuine Rhode Island clam bake, to be held at Donnelly's Pavilion, College Point, on September 7.

Preparations are already being made by the Independent Order Free Sons of Israel for the grand summer night's charity festival, to be held at the Harlem Casino, on August 20. Concert and dance music will be furnished during the afternoon and evening by the Hebrew Orphan Asylum and Hebrew Sheltering Guardian Orphan Asylum bands.

A vocal and instrumental entertainment will be given at Chickering Hall, Fifth Avenue and Eighteenth street, on July 23, under the auspices of Typographical Union No. 281. Many American and Italian artists will assist.

The Sunday school of the German Evangelical Lutheran Church, Lexington Avenue and One Hundred and Third street, will have its annual excursion to Bay Cliff, S. I., to-morrow. The excursionists will leave East One Hundredth street at 8:30 o'clock.

Tickets are out for the annual summer night's festival of the J. Furber Association, to be held in Cosmopolitan Park, Amsterdam Avenue and One Hundred and Seventieth street, on July 25.

As a Consequence Antonia Sembrani Is Arrested Under the Raines Law.

Antonla Sembrani, despoiler of this country. She keeps a boarding house, which moves according to the pressure of Italian population. At present she is located on Kingsbridge Road, near Two Hundred and Seventh street. On one Sunday she gave her guests a dinner and a quantity of alleged wine. On account of the wine, a policeman arrested her. Yesterday she was arraigned in General Sessions and pleaded not guilty to an indictment charging her with violating the Raines law.

Seven pigeons flew at intervals of two or three minutes from the middle of the Brooklyn Bridge yesterday to the Navy Yard. They went as high as one could see distinctly, turned in concentric circles, and then darted toward their homes. They were being trained by Lieutenant Harlow as carrier pigeons, and yesterday had their first trial.

It was a successful experiment. When they reached their destination, each carried a message, which was read by a policeman. The pigeons brought were collected. These were either rolled around the bird's neck or hidden under tail feathers.

Lieutenant Harlow has fifty pigeons which he is training to carry messages. The next experiment will be to send them to Governor's Island, and then from Sandy Hook.

Naval Officers Training the Birds for Use in the Event They Should Be Needed in War.

Seven pigeons flew at intervals of two or three minutes from the middle of the Brooklyn Bridge yesterday to the Navy Yard. They went as high as one could see distinctly, turned in concentric circles, and then darted toward their homes. They were being trained by Lieutenant Harlow as carrier pigeons, and yesterday had their first trial.

It was a successful experiment. When they reached their destination, each carried a message, which was read by a policeman. The pigeons brought were collected. These were either rolled around the bird's neck or hidden under tail feathers.

Lieutenant Harlow has fifty pigeons which he is training to carry messages. The next experiment will be to send them to Governor's Island, and then from Sandy Hook.

Naval Officers Training the Birds for Use in the Event They Should Be Needed in War.

Seven pigeons flew at intervals of two or three minutes from the middle of the Brooklyn Bridge yesterday to the Navy Yard. They went as high as one could see distinctly, turned in concentric circles, and then darted toward their homes. They were being trained by Lieutenant Harlow as carrier pigeons, and yesterday had their first trial.

It was a successful experiment. When they reached their destination, each carried a message, which was read by a policeman. The pigeons brought were collected. These were either rolled around the bird's neck or hidden under tail feathers.

Lieutenant Harlow has fifty pigeons which he is training to carry messages. The next experiment will be to send them to Governor's Island, and then from Sandy Hook.

Naval Officers Training the Birds for Use in the Event They Should Be Needed in War.

Seven pigeons flew at intervals of two or three minutes from the middle of the Brooklyn Bridge yesterday to the Navy Yard. They went as high as one could see distinctly, turned in concentric circles, and then darted toward their homes. They were being trained by Lieutenant Harlow as carrier pigeons, and yesterday had their first trial.

It was a successful experiment. When they reached their destination, each carried a message, which was read by a policeman. The pigeons brought were collected. These were either rolled around the bird's neck or hidden under tail feathers.

Lieutenant Harlow has fifty pigeons which he is training to carry messages. The next experiment will be to send them to Governor's Island, and then from Sandy Hook.

Naval Officers Training the Birds for Use in the Event They Should Be Needed in War.

Seven pigeons flew at intervals of two or three minutes from the middle of the Brooklyn Bridge yesterday to the Navy Yard. They went as high as one could see distinctly, turned in concentric circles, and then darted toward their homes. They were being trained by Lieutenant Harlow as carrier pigeons, and yesterday had their first trial.

It was a successful experiment. When they reached their destination, each carried a message, which was read by a policeman. The pigeons brought were collected. These were either rolled around the bird's neck or hidden under tail feathers.

Lieutenant Harlow has fifty pigeons which he is training to carry messages. The next experiment will be to send them to Governor's Island, and then from Sandy Hook.

Naval Officers Training the Birds for Use in the Event They Should Be Needed in War.

Seven pigeons flew at intervals of two or three minutes from the middle of the Brooklyn Bridge yesterday to the Navy Yard. They went as high as one could see distinctly, turned in concentric circles, and then darted toward their homes. They were being trained by Lieutenant Harlow as carrier pigeons, and yesterday had their first trial.

It was a successful experiment. When they reached their destination, each carried a message, which was read by a policeman. The pigeons brought were collected. These were either rolled around the bird's neck or hidden under tail feathers.

Lieutenant Harlow has fifty pigeons which he is training to carry messages. The next experiment will be to send them to Governor's Island, and then from Sandy Hook.

Naval Officers Training the Birds for Use in the Event They Should Be Needed in War.

CLEVELAND'S CENTENNIAL.

Festivities for Its Celebration Being Observed in a Befitting and Imposing Manner.

Cleveland, July 20.—Great preparations have been made for a fitting celebration of the city's centennial. The exercises began Sunday by the ringing of bells, and all the pulpits in the city were given up to the history of the city. The State Encampment of the Ohio National Guard was formally opened to-day by Governor Bushnell and staff. The militia will be brigaded two regiments at a time, and the encampment will last during the entire period of six weeks, ending September 10.

The formal opening of the centennial celebration will take place Wednesday, "Founders' Day." There will be a grand parade of civic and military organizations, the most brilliant affair of the kind ever witnessed in Cleveland. The oration of the day will be delivered by General Joseph R. Hawley, of Connecticut. Addresses will be delivered by Major McKinley, Governor Coffin, of Connecticut; Governor Bushnell, of Ohio, and others.

A grand historical pageant, consisting of twenty-four floats, representing "The Passing of the Century" will be the spectacle of the streets on the evening of July 22, and a grand reception and centennial ball will succeed it at the Gray's Armory. Friday will be "Wheelmen's Day," and the largest bicycle parade ever seen will form in the streets of this city. The succeeding weeks will be interspersed with events of public interest.

On July 22, 1796, General Moses Cleaveland, of the Connecticut Land Company, landed at the mouth of the Cuyahoga, on the shore of Lake Erie, and the people of Cleveland date their history from this event.

Hartford, Conn., July 20.—The delegation from this city to the Cleveland Centennial left at 4:40 this afternoon, and will arrive in Cleveland at 10:25 to-morrow morning. The members will pay their own expenses, as Mayor Preston has declined to approve a resolution appropriating $750 for the purpose.

Governor Coffin and staff will leave here for the Cleveland Centennial to-morrow on a special car attached to the 12:05 p. m. express over the Boston & Albany road from Springfield. The party will reach Cleveland at 4:25 a. m. Wednesday, and in the afternoon in the military parade Governor Coffin will ride mounted beside Governor Bushnell, their respective staffs following. The party will return Friday.

PIGEONS AS MESSENGERS.

Naval Officers Training the Birds for Use in the Event They Should Be Needed in War.

Seven pigeons flew at intervals of two or three minutes from the middle of the Brooklyn Bridge yesterday to the Navy Yard. They went as high as one could see distinctly, turned in concentric circles, and then darted toward their homes. They were being trained by Lieutenant Harlow as carrier pigeons, and yesterday had their first trial.

It was a successful experiment. When they reached their destination, each carried a message, which was read by a policeman. The pigeons brought were collected. These were either rolled around the bird's neck or hidden under tail feathers.

Lieutenant Harlow has fifty pigeons which he is training to carry messages. The next experiment will be to send them to Governor's Island, and then from Sandy Hook.

Naval Officers Training the Birds for Use in the Event They Should Be Needed in War.

Seven pigeons flew at intervals of two or three minutes from the middle of the Brooklyn Bridge yesterday to the Navy Yard. They went as high as one could see distinctly, turned in concentric circles, and then darted toward their homes. They were being trained by Lieutenant Harlow as carrier pigeons, and yesterday had their first trial.

It was a successful experiment. When they reached their destination, each carried a message, which was read by a policeman. The pigeons brought were collected. These were either rolled around the bird's neck or hidden under tail feathers.

Lieutenant Harlow has fifty pigeons which he is training to carry messages. The next experiment will be to send them to Governor's Island, and then from Sandy Hook.

Naval Officers Training the Birds for Use in the Event They Should Be Needed in War.

Seven pigeons flew at intervals of two or three minutes from the middle of the Brooklyn Bridge yesterday to the Navy Yard. They went as high as one could see distinctly, turned in concentric circles, and then darted toward their homes. They were being trained by Lieutenant Harlow as carrier pigeons, and yesterday had their first trial.

It was a successful experiment. When they reached their destination, each carried a message, which was read by a policeman. The pigeons brought were collected. These were either rolled around the bird's neck or hidden under tail feathers.

Lieutenant Harlow has fifty pigeons which he is training to carry messages. The next experiment will be to send them to Governor's Island, and then from Sandy Hook.

Naval Officers Training the Birds for Use in the Event They Should Be Needed in War.

Seven pigeons flew at intervals of two or three minutes from the middle of the Brooklyn Bridge yesterday to the Navy Yard. They went as high as one could see distinctly, turned in concentric circles, and then darted toward their homes. They were being trained by Lieutenant Harlow as carrier pigeons, and yesterday had their first trial.

It was a successful experiment. When they reached their destination, each carried a message, which was read by a policeman. The pigeons brought were collected. These were either rolled around the bird's neck or hidden under tail feathers.

Lieutenant Harlow has fifty pigeons which he is training to carry messages. The next experiment will be to send them to Governor's Island, and then from Sandy Hook.

Naval Officers Training the Birds for Use in the Event They Should Be Needed in War.

Seven pigeons flew at intervals of two or three minutes from the middle of the Brooklyn Bridge yesterday to the Navy Yard. They went as high as one could see distinctly, turned in concentric circles, and then darted toward their homes. They were being trained by Lieutenant Harlow as carrier pigeons, and yesterday had their first trial.

It was a successful experiment. When they reached their destination, each carried a message, which was read by a policeman. The pigeons brought were collected. These were either rolled around the bird's neck or hidden under tail feathers.

Lieutenant Harlow has fifty pigeons which he is training to carry messages. The next experiment will be to send them to Governor's Island, and then from Sandy Hook.

Naval Officers Training the Birds for Use in the Event They Should Be Needed in War.

Seven pigeons flew at intervals of two or three minutes from the middle of the Brooklyn Bridge yesterday to the Navy Yard. They went as high as one could see distinctly, turned in concentric circles, and then darted toward their homes. They were being trained by Lieutenant Harlow as carrier pigeons, and yesterday had their first trial.

It was a successful experiment. When they reached their destination, each carried a message, which was read by a policeman. The pigeons brought were collected. These were either rolled around the bird's neck or hidden under tail feathers.

Lieutenant Harlow has fifty pigeons which he is training to carry messages. The next experiment will be to send them to Governor's Island, and then from Sandy Hook.

Naval Officers Training the Birds for Use in the Event They Should Be Needed in War.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labelling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. SAMUEL PITCHER. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children will be kept well, and that you will have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Pitcher is on every wrapper.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.